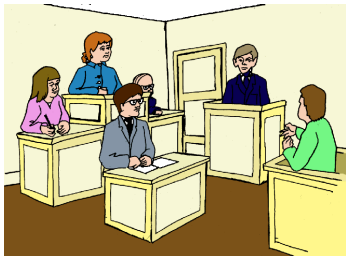
EasyRead
Legal Aid Dictionary

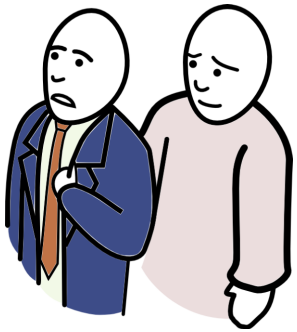
Richard West and Andrew Holman of Inspired Services and the Legal Services Commission are delighted to launch an EasyRead Legal Aid Dictionary at the Learning Disability Today London Conference and Exhibition on 25 November.

The Dictionary is the result of Richard's involvement with the Legal Services Commission's Client Diversity Group.

It is part of the group's work to raise awareness of the needs of different groups of legal aid clients amongst the legal profession and policy makers in the justice system.



The dictionary will be promoted to solicitors, barristers, not-for-profit legal advisers, the courts and tribunal service.



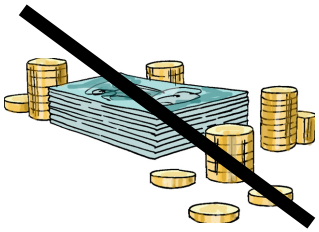
The dictionary comes with a new set of copyright free illustrations.

These will aid understanding by both people with learning disabilities and those who do not have English as a first language.

As these easy words and pictures are used, it is hoped they will promote better understanding for people with a learning disability about what is happening if they come into contact with the justice system.

A copy of the dictionary and free access to the illustrations can be found at:

http://tinyurl.com/legalaiddict



Please note that you will need to sign up to download the dictionary.

Signing up will only take a minute and is free.

For more information, please contact:

Kirstie Adams
Equality and Diversity Manager
Legal Services Commission
4 Abbey Orchard Street
London
SW1P 2BS

Telephone:

020 7783 7437

legal services COMMISSION

The Legal Services Commission

Need help with your legal problems? Community Legal Advice is a free and confidential advice service paid for by legal aid.

Visit
www.communitylegaladvice.org.uk or call 0845 345 4 345 to find out more.

legal services COMMISSION

Client Diversity Group

About the

EasyRead Legal Aid Dictionary

Produced by Inspired services publishing ltd