Every child matters – do they?

In 2004 the government committed to improving outcomes for all children and young people through the Every Child Matters – Change for Children Programme.

Five years on we look at how the implementation of this major programme has impacted on the lives of children and young people.

- Every Child Matters is striving to achieve the positive outcomes:
- be healthy
  - stay safe
  - enjoy and achieve
  - make a positive contribution
  - achieve economic well-being

The objective is to ensure that multi-agency professionals work together to enable a holistic intervention and support process that ensures that no young person is left vulnerable.

Children’s Services (Education and Social Care), Primary Care Trusts ( Health) and the voluntary sector are working closely together to ensure that this multi-agency approach is making a real difference to children’s lives.

In this fourth partnership conference organised by BILD, nasen, autism.west midlands and SEBDA, we will highlight some of the work that has been done in this area to support our most vulnerable young people and their parents and carers.

We have drawn together a number of experienced speakers who have been working on a range of activities to support the Every Child Matters – Change for Children agenda. We hope that the day will be of benefit to all who work with or support children with special educational needs and disabilities.

Who should attend?

The conference will be of interest to a multi-disciplinary audience of practitioners in education, health and social care as well as parents and carers.
