WE WANT YOU TO HELP ALLFIE GROW THIS SPRING!

ALLFIE has made real and important progress over the past twenty years in the struggle for Inclusive Education. Our work continues to have an important and positive impact on the lives of many people. So our struggle must continue because the progress we have made so far could be undermined by the changes being made by the present government and education authorities.

Increasingly we are told from people who are responsible for delivering our services: "We don't have the money!" So what's new? Disabled people and their families have been told this for many years, even when there was plenty of money available.

This is why ALLFIE wants to double its efforts to challenge such thinking. We are working to protect and build on the rights we have achieved. We see that an increase in our membership and the contributions we receive are an important part of the struggle, to strengthen our national campaigning work, which will increase our progress towards inclusive education.

We want new members, who support our principles of inclusive education, to join ALLFIE at this important time, and in this important struggle.

ALLFIE'S Core Principles of Inclusion

- A person's worth is independent of their abilities or achievements
- Every human being is able to feel and think
- Every human being has a right to communicate and be heard

- All human beings need each other
- Real education can only happen in the context of real relationships
- All people need support and friendship from people of their own age
- Progress for all learners is achieved by building on things people can do rather than what they can't
- Diversity brings strength to all living systems
- Collaboration is more important than competition

Each member receives:

- FREE subscription to Inclusion Now Magazine which has a whole range of articles with National and Local features about Inclusive Education. This is a really valuable resource for young people, parents and professionals. It is printed 3 times a year.
- Monthly campaigns and policy briefings full of policy updates and campaigning ideas;
- Notice of meetings, events, training courses about Inclusive Education;
- News of campaigns and consultations taking place around the country in relation to Inclusive Education;
- Important contacts for Inclusive Education: local and national groups plus up-to-date information about Inclusive education.
