

Visiting the audiologist

Our ears help us to hear. We can listen to music, or talk to friends, or do things we enjoy.

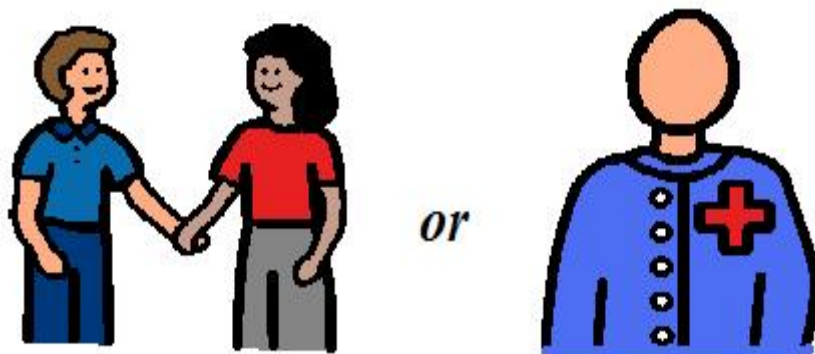

If we cannot hear, it can make us sad.

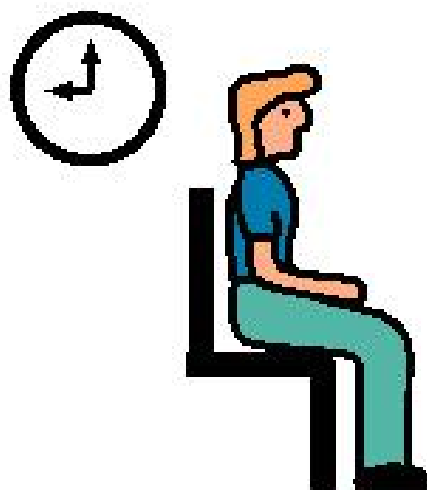

The audiologist can help you hear. You will go to visit her in Antrim Area Hospital.

What day is your appointment?

Who is going with you to your appointment?

You may need to wait a while before you see the audiologist.

This is the room where you will do your hearing test.

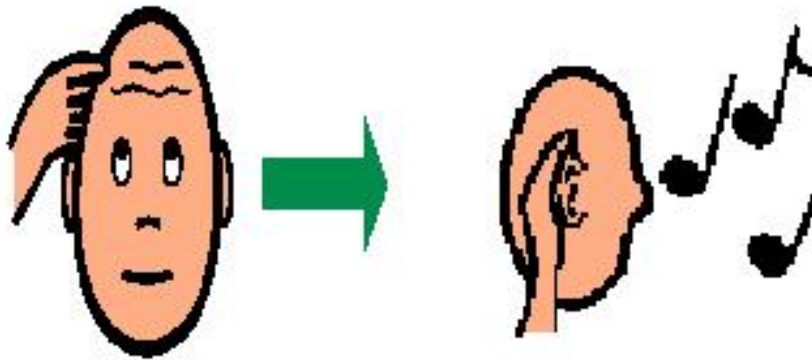

The audiologist will look inside your ears with a special torch.

Then she will go into her office next door.

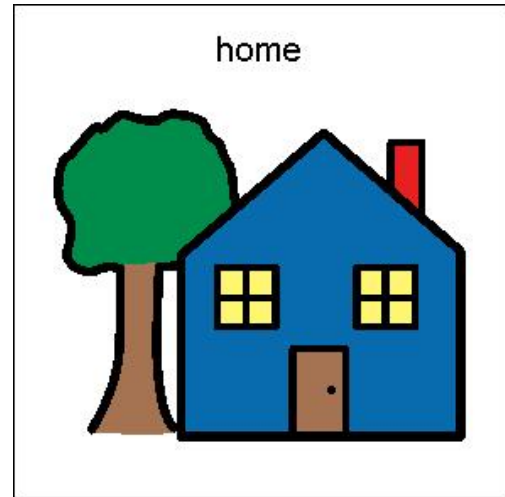

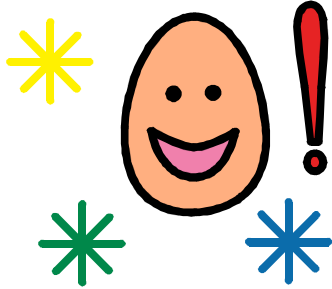

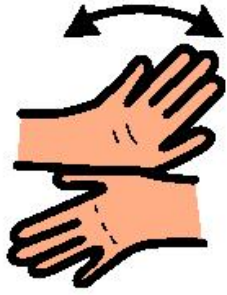

You will stay and put on the headset and earphones.

She will ask you to listen to some sounds, and tell her when you can hear them.

She will tell you about the sort of hearing aid you need. Or she will help fix your broken hearing aid.

You're finished! You did a great job. Now you can go home.
