BILD Conference 2013

A day for learning from good practice leaders – and to be inspired!

BILD Conference in 2013 is about finding the best ways to challenge and change the cultures that limit the possibilities for people with learning disabilities, and how we can use creative approaches to break down barriers and work across the boundaries that can frustrate so many of us.

You'll hear from leaders in a range of areas, and be able to talk with and learn from people already making things happen, to share experiences and ideas and then how to put them into practice. We'll want to hear what you are doing too – it's an exchange!

Keynote speakers

Baroness Sheila Hollins
Professor of Psychiatry of Disability, St George's, University of London

Prior to her retirement, Baroness Sheila Hollins was Chair of the Division of Mental Health for 3 years. For 25 years she was a Consultant Psychiatrist in Learning Disability in South West London and has had two secondments to the DoH as senior policy advisor in learning disability and autism.

Scott Watkin
SeeAbility

Scott Watkin is an Ambassador for SeeAbility's eye 2 eye Campaign which is transforming eye care and vision for people who have learning disabilities in the UK. Scott was previously Co-National Director for Learning Disabilities at the Department of Health where he worked with Government Ministers to influence policy for people with learning disabilities. He was also National Learning Disability Consultant for Mencap.

Zone 1 Let's talk about housing and support

Zone leader: Alicia Wood
CEO for Housing and Support Alliance

Sarah Maguire
Director of Quality for Choice Support

Luke Harvey
Experienced in directing his own innovative housing support

This session will focus on how to ensure that people with learning disabilities get the housing and support that works for them, including the new ways that people are getting housing and how to make sure support organisations are helping people. We will launch the Driving Up Quality Code as part of the post-Winterbourne delivery plan.

Zone 2 Let's talk about health

Zone leader: Jim Blair
Consultant Nurse, Learning Disabilities, Great Ormond Street Hospital

Peter Cranham
LD Our Lives Our Health

Andy Whittington
CEO, Merton Mencap

People with a learning disability aren't always able to get good care and treatment when they fall ill. This zone will look at practical solutions to ensure you get the best from health services in future. It will look at how to assess capacity to consent to treatment, reasonable adjustments to ensure appropriate timely care provision and ways of changing cultures in health service settings.

Zone 3 Let's talk about jobs

Zone leader: Roger Painter
Regional Employment Lead for West Midlands and Independent Consultant

The Employment Support Service (TESS)
Coventry

Enable
Shropshire Council

People with learning disabilities need the right support to overcome the barriers preventing them from getting jobs. This zone will focus on what how two projects in the West Midlands are successfully helping people with learning disabilities to get jobs. The experiences from Shropshire and Coventry, will focus on good practice and practical examples of how people with a wide range of disabilities can be supported into employment and work experience.

Zone 4 Let's talk about education

Zone leader: Elizabeth Archer
Project Director at SENDirect

Paul Taylor
Lindon Bennett School, Hounslow

Veronica Armson
Phoenix School, Tower Hamlets

Sherann Hillman
Family carer from Parents in Partnership

This zone will see representatives from a range of educational organisations exploring the new opportunities for children with disabilities, ways to change staff perceptions of pupil behaviour, and the use of the expressive arts for young people with autism.

Zone 5 Let's talk about ageing well

Zone leader: Cally Ward
Independent consultant specialising in good support for older people

Christine Towers
Foundation for People with Learning Disabilities

Mencap
Mencap Cymru Older Voices Project

This zone will be led by Cally Ward, who has worked with people with learning disabilities and their families for thirty years. Christine Towers will explore how to help people with learning disabilities and their families plan for the future. Participants will also hear from the Older Voices project that is helping older people with a learning disability fight for their rights.

Zone 6 Let's talk about making sure it's a great life

Zone Leader: Paul Richards
Stay Up Late and Southdown Housing Association

Q Team member
Southdown Housing Association

Stay Up Late
Stay Up Late campaign

Many people with learning disabilities aren't living the lives they'd choose. We'll explore what they really want, and flexible and creative ways to get that support. We'll also create the 'Stay Up Late Manifesto for Change' and 'Anti-Manifesto' – a list of the reasons people aren't living the lives they want, as a way of challenging people to think differently.
