

We want Changing Places toilets to be provided in public places in our local area, across England and the rest of the UK

Many thousands of disabled people, including people with profound and multiple learning disabilities, and their families are denied the right to do everyday things because of a lack of public Changing Places toilets – with a hoist, changing bench and plenty of space.

Instead, families have to change their disabled family members on dirty toilet floors or are forced to stay at home. This is unacceptable.

We want Changing Places toilets to be installed in our local area and across the UK. The government must change building regulations to make Changing Places toilets compulsory in big public places.
