NHS Education for Scotland have developed a new online learning resource for professionals about fetal alcohol harm.

The resource is freely available through the NHS Knowledge Network website, no password is needed. Just go to: <http://www.knowledge.scot.nhs.uk/home/learning-and-cpd/learning-spaces/fasd.aspx>

The resource provides you with the latest evidence about the prevention, identification and treatment of fetal alcohol harm. It is lively and interactive with films, reading and links to a new community of practice website to enable those who have undertaken the resource to build up supportive professional networks across Scotland.
