Workshop Themes

- 1. Health Action Plans
Ann Hutchinson/Ruth McFall
To share good practice and give people the opportunity to question, reflect on their own work and problem solve for their own areas by having an understanding of:
 - How the Sheffield Health Action Plan Project uses person centred approaches as an integral part of planning
 - The development of resources and training for Health Facilitators
 - Strategic approaches to the promotion of inclusion within mainstream health
- 2. Person Centred Training
Diane Staniforth
The aim of the workshop is to consolidate our experience of person centred planning in Sheffield by demonstrating and sharing good practice.
We aim to continue to develop and promote the future of training with service users, staff, carers and other professionals.
- 3. Care Programme Approach
Julia Shepherd/Sharon Colbeck
To demonstrate the interface between Person Centred Planning and Care programme Approach. The Workshop will demonstrate how using Person Centred Approaches within the Care Programme Approach, can promote positive supports for individuals through a seamless service, whilst meeting clinicians requirements / responsibilities around Mental Health Provision and Person Centred Risk Management.
Participants will engage in case study work to demonstrate the interface and have an opportunity to share practice.
- 4. Older Family Planning Project
Dalia Magrill, Denise Bell, Ruth Parrott
The Older Families Planning Project has been supporting older families to prepare for the future. Person centred approaches have been at the heart of all of the work that has been successful. This workshop will explore how person centred planning can be most effective in enabling older families to face the future with greater confidence.
- 5. Planning with Young People in Transition
Niki Thomas
Supporting young people in transition through person centred planning. Niki will talk about the exiting work un underway in Sheffield around young people reviews and plans for leaving school. Niki will be joined by Christopher Bates who will share with us his experience of having a person centred plan, he will be supported by his mum Sue
