

Getting Involved

Walsingham
Supporting people with learning disabilities

Walsingham's Involvement Committee want more people with learning disabilities to make decisions about how Walsingham supports them.

The Committee are looking for at least one person with learning disabilities to be a member of the group.

The Involvement Committee meets about three times a year in different parts of England and Wales.

Walsingham will pay for individuals and their support worker (if required) to attend and prepare for meetings and also pay for travel and accommodation.
