

The University of Nottingham

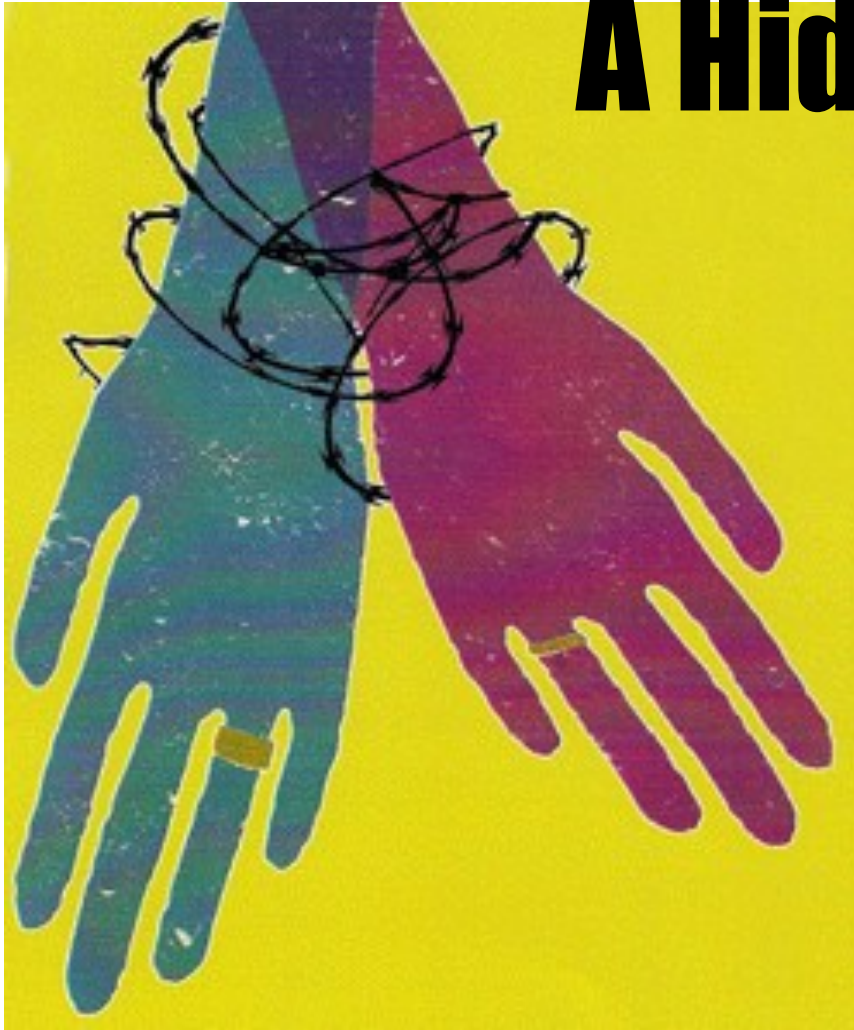

May 1st 2014

UNITED KINGDOM · CHINA · MALAYSIA
Social Work & Social Well-Being Research Centre

ACTing against abuse

The National Steering Group on Forced Marriage and Learning Disability presents...

A Hidden Truth:

The Impact of Forced Marriage on People with Learning Disabilities

This free full day conference will help practitioners explore and understand the dangers of forced marriage of people with learning disabilities, recognise the signs and feel confident safeguarding and working with communities and individuals.

Held at the University of Nottingham and in partnership with the Ann Craft Trust, A Hidden Truth will take place on May 1st 2014 (9.30am - 4.30pm).

Guest Speakers include...

Judge Martin Cardinel: Leading expert on the Mental Capacity Act

Home Office/Foreign & Commonwealth Office: Forced Marriage Unit and

Rachael Clawson: University of Nottingham/Ann Craft Trust

Please note that due to limited spaces we can only accept 2 delegates per organisation & there will be a £30 charge for non-attendance

This one off event is designed to help you and your organisation understand Forced Marriage and how it relates to your day to day practice. Places can be reserved now (a buffet lunch is provided).

For more information please contact Matt Parr on matthew.parr@nottingham.ac.uk or 0115 951 5400