

©National Trust
Images/Claire Poulton

National Trust Would you like to learn how to care for the National Trust's heritage gardens, parklands and landscapes and bring them to life with stories that offer people inspiring, enjoyable and memorable experiences of our places?

We are giving you the chance to work at one of our hundreds of amazing gardens or parklands and become part of the National Trust team who care for one of the greatest collections of historic gardens and plants and largest expanses of historic parkland in the world.

We want to give you the horticultural skills and know-how you need to start a career path looking after gardens and landscapes with a rich history and to show you how to use your enthusiasm to bring the spirit of these places alive for all to enjoy.

We're looking for people with a passion for the work we do to come and train with us in some of our breath-taking places and are searching for the people who will most benefit. You don't need qualifications or work experience, just plenty of enthusiasm and a willingness to learn. In return, we'll give you a paid job for a year, full training, a Heritage Skills Passport and a really impressive portfolio from a great organisation.

If you join our Passport to Your Future Training Programme, we'll share our knowledge and skills with you so that you can continue to work in beautiful places like this for the rest of your career.

For more information visit www.passporttoyourfuture.org.uk or contact the Project Manager at Claire.poulton@nationaltrust.org.uk

© National Trust 2013