

Here at Camden, we're committed to providing our diverse community with excellent services across the board. We're seeking outstanding people who will focus on our customers, take responsibility, work together and find better and cheaper ways of doing things. So, if you share these values, think about joining us.

Person Centred Planning Co-ordinator (job share)

£34,707 - £37,476 p.a. inc. (pro rata)

Part-time - between 17.5 - 28 hours per week

You will play a key role in the personalisation of social care as part of Camden's Learning Disabilities Service.

Working with service users, their families and service providers in both the statutory and voluntary sectors, you will support the changes needed to ensure personalisation becomes a reality for people with learning disabilities. In particular, you will ensure that all service providers and agencies make use of person-centred thinking and approaches when planning and delivering services.

With experience of working with adults with learning disabilities in either health or social care, you will be familiar with operating in a multi-disciplinary setting. You will also be skilled in strategic development and project planning, as well as in developing effective partnership working and organising and/or delivering training/workshops.

This position is subject to an enhanced CRB check.

Camden Council values the diversity of its community and aims to have a workforce that reflects this. We therefore encourage applications from all sections of the community.

Camden is committed to the protection and safety of children and vulnerable adults and expects all staff to share this commitment.
