Access to Acute Get it right for people with a learning disability – Get it right for everyone

We want to work with you to ensure continuing improvements for the experience of and outcomes for people with a learning disability in acute hospital care. Join us at this event to find out about the good practice that exists, learn about how you can make sure reasonable adjustments are part of your local Trust strategies, and how you can apply these principles to meet Equality Act duties for all vulnerable groups.

We will be sharing practical tools and providing resources for participants to take away and use, including the acute liaison nurse business case. The event will also provide opportunities to discuss key issues relevant to your practice / experience and network with peers from throughout the UK.

This event is for people who can make a real difference to care and strategies within general hospital NHS Trusts and is aimed at Commissioners, Lead Directors, Senior General Hospital leads, Acute Learning Disability Liaison Nurses, General Hospital Learning Disability Champions, General Hospital Vulnerable Adults leads, General Hospital Equality leads, Community Learning Disability team members with lead access to acute role and members of local learning disability partnership board health groups.
