Long Leys Court

Long Leys Court is an NHS inpatient unit, which provides assessment and treatment services for people with a primary diagnosis of learning disability and may have associated healthcare needs including mental health problems, challenging behaviours and epilepsy.

Lincolnshire Partnership NHS Trust was established in June 2002 to provide a countywide specialist mental health, learning disability and substance misuse service.

"Nurses have never made me do anything I don't want to do, they've just helped me see the best way to get the best results from me"

(former service user associated with 'Building Nurses' project at L.L.C. March 05)

Philosophy of Care

To enable service users admitted to the assessment and treatment unit to access those areas of health care and social expertise appropriate to their needs to enable them to function to the maximum of their ability and return to their care placement as soon as is reasonably possible.

We provide extensive research based assessments and structured care plans, together with regular multi disciplinary team reviews.

Service users are appropriately involved in planning and reviewing their treatment and care plans throughout the admission period and are encouraged to be involved in decisions about their future placements.

The facilities

Long Leys Court has four bungalows, each offering single accommodation with communal living and dining facilities.

All bedrooms are finished to a high standard and can be equipped with a TV if required.

What can we provide?

The unit can provide inpatient service for people with physical health care needs as a bathroom and bedroom is equipped to meet these needs.

- Access to a multi-disciplinary team including consultant psychiatrist, GP, nurse, psychology, occupational therapy and speech & language therapist.
- A named nurse/key worker system.
- Weekly ward round with the consultant and regular review meetings with service user involvement as appropriate.
- Individual client held care plans based on assessments, including daily living skills.
- A homely safe environment.
- Individualised assessments according to need.
- A range of day activities, which are structured to meet individual needs.

Leisure

We have a structured nurse led day activity programme which may include visits to local amenities e.g. shops, meals out, pubs, cinema, bowling etc.

We have transport in the form of a people carrier and domestic car, and encourage outings where appropriate.

Service users are encouraged to take part in activities such as outings, crafts and gardening.

Staffing

- Four consultant psychiatrists with additional specialist register support and S.M.O's (Senior House Officers) on a rotational basis
- Psychology
- Qualified nurses (RNMH, RNLD)
- Nursing assistants
- Administration support
- Occupational therapist
- Speech and language therapist

A GP visits the unit three days per week to facilitate all physical health care needs.
