

My Health Skills

The online networking platform for those passionate about our healthcare workforce!

My Health Skills is designed to encourage those who are passionate about workforce transformation to share best practice and resources, access useful and relevant information and offers a platform for members to voice their opinion, ask questions and seek answers.

Join a Group, Start a Group, Make a Change.

My Health Skills will offer you the following:

- Free membership to a health sector specific networking platform
- A place to share Best Practice in healthcare workforce transformation
- Links to subject related blogs and online resources
- A place to seek advice, give advice, engage and start thought provoking conversations
- Access to subject related webinars
- 'How to Guides' and 'Blogs' to support members with their workforce transformation

You will be able to create a professional profile, join a group, create a group, host a webinar, network, and share and access information.

This network belongs to its members! It will connect healthcare professionals with a common interest in workforce transformation and encourage and promote the sharing of best practice, knowledge and experience whilst providing full access to webinars and blogs from key speakers.

@myhealthskills

myhealthskills.com

Powered by

Co-invested by

