Managing my money

Building Bridges Training is offering a free 3 day training course for people with a learning disability, called "Managing my money".

You will learn about budgeting - this is about making sure you have enough money for all the important things like food and bills and learn ideas that will help you make your money go further.

Free course in Walsall for people who have a learning disability and live independently.

You need to:

- Be willing to work with other people in the group.
- Be committed to coming to all 3 days of the course.
- Want to work towards a qualification, which means doing some homework!
- Be good at listening to others and willing to ask questions if you do not understand.
- Complete some worksheets with help and make a folder showing what you have learned. This is your portfolio.

If you complete the course and finish your portfolio you will get:

- An Entry Level 3 unit called 'Household Expenses' which counts as 3 credits towards an NOCN (National Open College Network) qualification
- A certificate from Building Bridges Training on the last day
- A £10 gift voucher
- After your portfolio has been assessed it will be posted to you with your OCN award certificate.
