

A 3 Day Summer School July 27th-29th 2009

Hosted by:

The National Institute for Intellectual Disability (NIID)

and the NIID Alumni Trinity College Dublin

This is a place for debate of things that are important to people with disabilities, their families and their staff members.

www.niidsummerschool.tk

Workshop costs €250; Students and those in receipt of benefits/Disability Allowance €150

Programme designed in collaboration with:

Selale Leflef, Karen Gilmartin & Emma McCormack

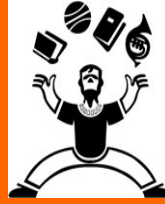

Certificate in Contemporary Living Students, Trinity College Dublin

Expressive Arts: Dance, Drama, Juggling and Drumming

John Kubiak

You will use different art techniques to explore your creativity.

Inclusive Schools and Communities

Richard Rosenberg & Mary Falvey

You will learn to create opportunities for people with and without disabilities to work and play together.

Ray Murray and Deborah Espiner

Person Centred Planning

You will learn about supporting people with disabilities to plan their lives.

**

Media: Creating a message in a newspaper, radio, and TV.

Minerva Rivas

You will learn how to use media to promote your voice and ideas.

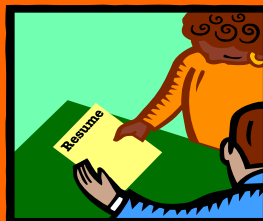

Transition

You will learn about supporting people with disabilities to move from school to adult lives.

Rud & Ann
Turnbull

Early Learning

You will learn to support the social, emotional, reading and writing needs of children with disabilities.

Susan Ryan

Niamh Lally

Traditional Irish Sports

You will learn about traditional Irish sports.

Painting Techniques

You will learn about painting portraits and other forms of expression in painting

Irene Clark

For more information, please contact Ailish Kennedy at +353 (0) 1 896 3885 or

akenned@tcd.ie

Picture taken from <http://www.changepeople.co.uk>

