

November's Offer of the Month from CHANGE

25% off our Specialist Criminal Justice Collection

The CHANGE Specialist Criminal Justice Image Collection was produced by working with the Courts, Police, Prisons and Probation Services and contains 550 illustrations on the topics of being arrested, going to court, going to prison and coming out on licence. These images can be used to support vulnerable people going through the Criminal Justice system whether they are witnesses or defendants and are also a valuable tool for the professionals who support them. The collection can also be used to support parents who are going through child protection proceedings to understand what happens in court. The images can be used to make your own appointment letters, posters, booklets or use them on your website.

The Collection comes with a series of ready-made booklets including “The Court and Your Child – What to do when Social Workers get Involved.” “The Court and Your Child – When Mum and Dad Split Up” and “Telling the Courts about the Money you have” which is a template/guide to understanding how to declare your financial circumstances when paying a fine.

The collection also includes our step-by-step guide to making your own easy read information “How to Make Information Accessible” which will give you all the help you need to get started.

Our special offer for November is 25% off the RRP on all licences (licences are based on the number of people using the disc)
