

Positive About Autism™

Positive About Autism is a new training company providing learning opportunities on autism with a positive style and philosophy.

What makes us different?

We aim to provide the highest standard of autism training.

We're positive about autism and that's reflected in the style and content of our workshops and events.

We believe in learning that's fun, enlightening and enabling. We explain autism and equip practitioners with some tools they can use right away.

Our quality learning experience starts even before you arrive! We get things going with pre-course activities. Our events are personalised to you and the learning doesn't stop at 4 o'clock! There's support for learning post event for all participants through our newsletter and online learning opportunities.

We run unique events like our Training for Autism Trainers course.

We are brilliant value! Places on our day courses are £68 per person including lunch (excludes Training for Autism Trainers - see website)
