This conference welcomes all health and social care professionals working across the acute, community and independent care sectors. If you have an interest in Protecting, Developing and Influencing Care within forensic services and wish to understand and learn more of the number of developments in practice across a range of Forensic Nursing then join us at this event.

Through a series of plenary sessions the study day will explore methods by which: commissioning will develop within specialist services going forward. How risk is mitigated to protect and promote client dignity and safety. How dignity can be maintained whilst using reasonable force to ensure safety. Explore the way in which team working can ensure best practice with this client group.

There will be 2 interactive workshops exploring Serious Untoward Incidents and lessons to be learned and Maintaining Safety and Dignity during control and restraint / physical intervention.

This conference will provide delegates with the opportunity to influence and provide information on both the opportunities and the challenges facing healthcare professionals working within forensic and related services.

There will be opportunities to network with colleagues from across the UK to share ideas, experiences, interventions and enthusiasm for forensic services.
