A training day to be held on Wednesday 14th April 2010 in Newcastle upon Tyne facilitated by Peter Bates and Jo Seddon of the National Development Team for Inclusion.

The training day will cost £80 + VAT.

Since NDTi published the Social Inclusion Training Pack in summer 2009, over 500 copies have been purchased by practitioners aspiring to develop their skills in socially inclusive practice. This training event will:

- Set out a clear aspiration for inclusion work
- Provide an opportunity to share good practice in supporting both people and communities so that everyone can achieve the life they want in the community of their choice
- Demonstrate a range of ways that the Social Inclusion Training Pack can assist with building and evaluating the impact of inclusion plans.

It will provide key information alongside really practical workshop exercises to help participants focus on the specific things that need to be done to support people in the community beyond services.

If you have already purchased your copy of the Social Inclusion Training Pack, then come along to this day and learn more about the values, practices and insights that help people to move from observing to attending and real belonging. If you do not yet have a copy of the pack, then the accompanying flyer explains how you can order one. To book your place on this course, simply complete the attached form and send it to Pauline. Places are limited!
