Pain Workshop:

Problem-Solving Skills

(Links to KSF HWB5, HWB7)

Pain can be a difficult symptom to control & all too often pressures of work & clinical practice can make full pain assessment & management difficult.

This workshop will highlight the issues which health & social care professionals feel cause these difficulties & will look at how future pain management can become more effective.

Learning Outcomes include:

- Define how cancer pain is managed locally
- Verify the main obstacles to effective pain management
- Produce ideas & recommendations through the workshop itself & an action plan for future pain management
