

“Specialist Trainers in the Field of Learning Disability”

Health Action Plan Training

TRAINING IN PARTNERSHIP

‘Valuing People’ (2001) said that all people with a learning disability should be offered a health action plan. This 1 day training provides participants with the skills and knowledge to facilitate plans for people with a learning disability in a person centered way.

Participants will explore the barriers to accessing health services and identify the role of the health facilitator in improving the health and well-being of people with a learning disability.
