

Providing support...your way

MacIntyre and Derbyshire County Council are working in partnership to recruit a Training and Support Development Worker who will lead a project to develop a sustainable training approach and resources to deliver training to elected members of 'Learning Disability Partnership Boards'.

TRAINING AND SUPPORT DEVELOPMENT WORKER – CHOICE AND CONTROL

Salary: To £25,000

12 month fixed term contract, secondment from other organisations welcomed.

This post will support people with learning disabilities and to some extent family carers to understand their role as elected members of local 'Partnership Boards'. The post holder will support people to gain confidence and skills to ensure their meaningful involvement on local boards, in planning for people with learning disabilities in Derbyshire.

The post holder will create links with local advocacy organisations and support Derbyshire's Choice and Control initiatives including Person Centred Planning. The post holder will work with a person/people with learning disabilities who will be recruited to facilitate elements of the training.

Travel across Derbyshire and the ability to work flexibly with a range of people and agencies is necessary for this role. It is essential that candidates have an understanding of partnership boards and a good understanding of issues that affect people with learning disabilities.

We welcome applicants of all ages and in return we will offer you:

- Comprehensive range of training including NVQ's
- Excellent pension scheme
- Competitive salary
- Generous annual leave
